BRITISH FOOD

Perhaps you know about some of the food that British people eat, but do you know about their strange food habits?

People from different parts of the UK and from different classes call their meals by different names. They call the midday meal, lunch or dinner and the evening meal, dinner, supper or tea. Tea is also sandwiches, cakes and tea (the drink) at four o'clock.

What do the British eat when they want something quick and easy? Baked beans, of course! You must warm them in a pan and eat them on toast. You can also go to a fish and chips shop. Many people eat their chips on the street so they get the dish in a special box. They eat chips with lots of salt and vinegar.

0. How many names does the evening meal have in Britain?

Three.

1. What do the British have with baked beans?

2. Where do the British put chips if they want to eat it outside?

Cheddar cheese is so popular in Britain that people run after it down a hill! This is a very strange English sport. You can see it once a year on Coopers Hill. There are four races, three for men and one for women. At the start of the race someone drops a big, round cheese down a very, very steep hill. About 15 racers run and jump after it. The first person to get to the bottom of the hill gets the cheese.

3. How often can you watch the Cheddar cheese sport event?

4. What is the prize if you win the Cheddar cheese race?

There is another strange race that the British have. There is a special Pancake Day race. Only women can run in the race. They must run with a pancake in a frying pan and throw it in the air three times. After the race, many English families eat pancakes with lemon juice and sugar.

Be careful if you have Christmas dinner with a British family – some of their Christmas customs are risky! Be very careful! Eat the Christmas pudding slowly if you don't want to eat a coin! When they are making their delicious dessert, British people put a coin in the mixture. The person who finds the coin in their pudding will be rich and happy.

5. Who can take part in a Pancake Day race?

6. Why is it dangerous to eat Christmas pudding?

Because _____
